

Who We Are

Detack GmbH has been an independent supplier of quality IT security auditing and consulting services for more than fifteen years. We are an international, small and agile team of experienced, determined and highly motivated professionals.

We are now looking to expand our team of consultants. If you are looking for a challenging position in a growing environment and want to have access to bleeding edge technology, then you are most welcome to join us.

Junior IT-Security Consultant (f/m)

Job Summary

You will be working in our IT security consultants team, taking part in consulting, auditing, pen-testing, development and support projects. You will also be part of the development and support effort for EPAS, our enterprise password analytics and strength enforcement solution

Your Responsibilities

- Taking part in IT security audit projects;
- Participating in Detack IT security solutions development projects;
- Perform installation, training, and on-site customization of Detack IT security solutions;
- Conducting IT security presentations and demonstrations.

Qualifications

- Familiarity with encryption protocols and algorithms and their application in computing;
- Be acquainted with communications and networking protocols, with in-depth knowledge of IP;
- Understand the basic concepts of reverse engineering;
- Be well up with computers architecture, with in-depth knowledge of the x86 architecture;
- Basic knowledge of x86 assembly language (or to use manuals) and program debugging techniques;
- Understanding of the HTTP/HTTPS protocol and know how to manipulate HTTP/HTTPS communications;
- Basic knowledge of the C and Java programming languages is a must, very good knowledge of at least one programming language;
- Be familiar with Windows and at least one type of UNIX, such as Linux operating systems;
- Basic knowledge of SQL and database access techniques; knowledge of server-side programming (stored procedures / functions) is a plus.

What we expect of you as a person

- Ability to work as a team player as well as working self-contained;
- Good written and verbal communication skills;
- Fluent German and very good written and verbal English skills;
- Be a self-learner: willingness to solve issues and ability to search for solutions in available public sources;
- Willingness to travel internationally, the geographical focus will develop over time along with the company's growth;
- Willingness to move to Ludwigsburg or vicinity.

Our offer:

- Working in an international team and for national and international customers;
- State-of-the-art technology to work with;
- Permanent contract with full-time working hours;
- Good business location in Ludwigsburg near Stuttgart;
- A very attractive salary;
- Further benefits to be discussed.

Please provide your full CV including a letter of intention and any personal projects to: jobs@detack.de